Student Advisory Council Goes to Indian Education Summit in Pierre

Elisabetta Giomo-James, Amanda Taylor, Dustin Beaulieu, Devin Drapeau, Flandreau Santee Sioux Tribe and Flandreau School District; student panelists: Diego Serrano, Alaina Cloud, Trinity Redday, Dawn Stempson, Tiffany Taylor, Morning Glory Lovejoy
We will explain the creation of this student advisory council. The Wahokunkiyab Ptaya Ospaye Kin worked together to develop an action plan, then presented it to tribal council, parents, school administration and the school board. Students developed a meaningful relationship, change and communication skills grounded in collective dialogue (omniciya) and Dakota woope (values).

Gone from our presences ...but Never Ever Forgotten!
Christin Weston has transferred her position from FSST Recreation Coordinator to I.H.S. Benefits Coordinator.

Christin has been very active in the building since it first opened in 2013. Dusty Beaulieu and Kiya Esquivel honored Christin with a star quilt from their own home then Avery Jones, Devin Drapeau and Dusty sang her an honoring song.

We ate a small lunch and talked about our wonderful times in the building with Christin.

We are excited for new beginnings but sad to see a good co-worker leave the building.

Wopida to Christin for all her hard work and dedication to the building and community, we know she will continue to do great things for the Wakpa Ipaksan.

Take heart disease seriously: Everyone knows that a beating heart is fundamental to human survival, but very few people take steps to ensure that their heart is in good health. Each year heart disease tops the charts as the number one killer of Americans, even though there are many easy steps that can be taken to ward off this devastating medical condition.

Diet is a key factor: One of the most common problems associated with heart disease is a poor diet. By regulating the foods you eat, you can take a very important step towards building and maintaining cardiovascular health.

The American Heart Association (Steps to a “Heart Healthy” Diet):
- Do not ingest more calories than you can burn in a day. This will speed up your metabolism and decrease your risk of obesity, as well as lower your blood pressure.
- Balance your diet between the food groups. You must ensure that you receive the proper nutrition to maintain a healthy cardiovascular system, and this can only be done by eating a variety of nutrient-rich foods.
- Purchase healthy foods when you shop. Take notice of nutrition facts, and look for ways to ensure that your diet is balanced.
- Cook healthy foods. Learn techniques to cook foods that are low in fat and high in nutritional value. This will allow you to ingest the full benefit of the foods that you purchase.

Add fiber to your diet:
- Fiber is extremely important for the health of your cardiovascular system. This substance can be found in many fruits and vegetables, as well as in whole grains.
- Fiber is known for its ability to lower blood pressure and increase energy. Ensuring that your diet includes enough fiber can be difficult, but if you can plan your meals with fiber in mind, you will be making a great decision for the health of your heart.

Exercise is essential: Diet is fundamental for maintaining health, but in order to live a healthy lifestyle, and stave off cardiovascular disease, you must remember that other steps need to be taken, such as routine exercise. The health of your heart can be hard to maintain, but it is up to you to make good decisions.

- A ten-year-old mattress weighs double what it did when it was new due to debris that it absorbs over time. That debris includes dust mites (their droppings and decaying bodies), mold, millions of dead skin cells, dandruff, animal and human hair, secretions, excretions, lint, pollen, dust, soil, sand, and a lot of perspiration, which the average person loses at a rate of a quart a day. Good night!

- Before rubber, people used bread to erase pencil marks.

- Sometimes it feels like you are waiting forever for traffic lights. Well you kind of are. The average person will spend 2 weeks of their lifetime waiting for that light to turn green.

- You know that little piece of plastic on the end of your shoelace? They have a name. They are called Aglets.

- Know how we often call baby rabbits bunnies? Well we’ve been doing it wrong the whole time. They are actually called kittens.

Nutrition 101

A good diet is important: Most people are aware that a proper diet is fundamental to a healthy lifestyle and that the things we choose to eat will directly influence our wellbeing. A good diet can lead to increased energy, lower blood pressure and a longer lifespan, while a bad diet may cause heart disease, poor digestion and chronic fatigue.

"You are what you eat." We have all heard this old proverb, but unfortunately, nutrition is not as simple as this statement may lead us to believe. A more accurate representation may be, "You are the content of what you eat." The human body requires the nutritional content found in food to survive, not the food itself.

The importance of nutrients: All food contains nutrients that our bodies use for various functions. These nutrients are used as fuel for our internal systems and are required to keep the body working. Without nutrients, our body has no material for sustaining life.

There are six classes of nutrients:
- Carbohydrates
- Lipids (fats and oils)
- Proteins
- Vitamins
- Water
- Minerals

Each of the above listed nutrients performs a unique service for the body, so to ensure good health it is necessary that we consume them all.

A balanced diet: Because different nutrients come from different food groups, it is important that we balance our diet with an appropriate amount of each of the five classifications each day.

There are five basic food groups:
- Grains
- Fruits
- Vegetables
- Protein
- Dairy

When it comes to nutrition, anyone can get it right! By making healthy choices, and consuming the proper amounts of nutrients, a person can reap the rewards of a good diet with improved health. Nutrition may be challenging to study, but it is easy to practice.

Heart Health - Walking

Importance of a healthy heart: Everyone knows that the heart is absolutely fundamental to human survival, but very few people take steps to ensure that their heart is in good health. Each year heart disease tops the chart as the number one killer of Americans, but there are many easy steps that can be taken to ward off this devastating medical condition.

Improving cardiovascular health through exercise: Research shows that light to moderate physical activity for at least 30 minutes a day can greatly improve cardiovascular health. Walking is the easiest way to fulfill this need. It has the lowest dropout rate of any form of exercise and can be done by almost anyone.

Benefits of a walking routine include:
- Improved blood pressure and blood sugar levels
- Improved blood lipid levels
- Reduced risk of cardiovascular diseases
- Reduced risk of obesity
- Reduced risk of diabetes
- Reduced risk of colon or breast cancer

Beginning your walking routine: First ensure that you are in proper physical condition for exercise. Men older than 40 and women older than 50 should consult a physician before beginning any sort of regular exercise, and people with known medical conditions that could be aggravated by strenuous activity should also seek counsel from a health care provider.

Setting a goal for your routine: Are you doing it to lose weight, or just to maintain a healthy heart? Those walking for heart health will need to walk less than those walking for weight-loss, and by figuring out what you wish to achieve, you can prepare yourself for success in your endeavor.

Follow through with your plan: The final step is to make sure that your plan comes to fruition. This can be the most difficult step. If you are having a hard time getting out and walking, remember that the quality of your life is what is at stake, and it is up to you to make good decisions.

Section 19-3-2. Qualification for Per Capita Payments.

In accordance with the policy set forth in Section 19-1-1 of this Title, to fairly satisfy the needs of tribal members who contribute to the advancement and self-determination of the Tribe by residing within the Reservation community, to provide incentives to members to return to the Reservation community to further the advancement of tribal self-determination, and to enhance the Reservation community socially, economically and culturally, the Tribe adopts the policy that limits monthly disbursements of per capita payments to qualified tribal members who have physically resided for a period of one (1) year within the Reservation community, as those terms are defined in Section 19-1-1.1 of this Title.

Section 19-3-6. Maintaining Residency.

Persons who have been granted a Confirmation of Residency shall maintain physical residency within the Reservation community. Failure to do so shall result in the loss of qualified tribal member status.

Qualified tribal members must notify the Executive Committee or its designee of any change of residency status, including the following:

1. Moving out of the Reservation community, whether temporary or permanent.
2. Leaving the Reservation community for an extended period of thirty (30) days or more.

Higher education exemption - In order to qualify for student exemption, the member must be enrolled as a full-time student as determined by the school's registrar. Vocational education or certificate programs are eligible for the higher education exemption if the student meets all other factors.

Students shall be required to submit adequate proof to the Per Capita Committee or its designee of their continuing eligibility to receive this exemption, and students must authorize the Per Capita Office to obtain any information needed from the school in order to verify the student's full time student status. Failure to do so may result in loss of exempt status.

Enrollment in online, general education degree courses, correspondence courses, or other types of distance learning classes do not allow a member to qualify for the student exemption. Any student who is placed on funding suspension through the tribe's higher education program for failing to maintain the minimum credit hour requirements shall lose his or her exempt status. The student shall thereafter be required to renew his or her residency in accordance with this Title to be eligible for the per capita payment.

Because degree programs have different credit and time requirements, there will be no time limitation on this exemption, so long as the student is enrolled full-time. Upon completion or termination of the student's higher education program, the member shall resume physical residence within the Reservation community within ninety (90) days.

Failure to resume physical residence shall result in loss of exempt status and the member will no longer be deemed a qualified tribal member for per capita purposes.

If the student’s higher education exemption expires or terminates and the student wishes to continue receiving the per capita benefits via the higher education exemption, he or she may apply to the Per Capita Committee for a continuation of their exemption. An extension may be granted at the discretion of the Per Capita Committee and is a non-appealable decision.

Students who have qualified for the higher education exemption in the spring semester, and who are enrolled in classes full time in the fall semester immediately following will be allowed to maintain their higher education exemption throughout the summer. Students must furnish proof to the Per Capita Committee that they are actually enrolled in the fall semester full time to be eligible. Students will still be required to apply for the higher education exemption for the upcoming academic year.

Student who have an internship, externship, or student-teaching requirement to obtain their degree will be allowed to continue to receive the higher education exemption during that internship, externship, or student-teaching and will not need to maintain a full-time course load.

In-patient Treatment Exemption - In order to qualify for an exemption for in-patient treatment, the member must have been physically residing within the Reservation community for a period of one continuous year prior to the granting of the exemption. Before leaving the Reservation Community, the member must notify the Per Capita Office in writing, include a letter regarding which treatment facility they are attending and how long treatment will last, and sign a HIPAA Release for any and all medical information provided to the Tribe. Within fourteen (14) calendar days of successful completion or other program termination, the member will be required to notify the Per Capita Committee that they are living within the Reservation community, and provide Confirmation of Residency and other paperwork as required.

Section 19-3-13. Incarcerated Persons.

Any qualified member who is incarcerated in a penal institution or otherwise pursuant to a conviction under any criminal law for more than thirty (30) days shall lose qualified status. However, such member shall regain qualified status ninety (90) days after his/her release and reapplication for qualified member status, provided he/she immediately satisfies the definition of physical residence within the Reservation Community. Upon release from incarceration, the member shall complete an application and provide documentation for Confirmation of Residency. Failure to provide such documentation, or to notify the Executive Committee or its designee of any change in sentencing which effects residency status within fourteen (14) days of release, will result in denial of confirmation of residency. Incarceration shall include living in a half-way house, court-ordered treatment, house arrest, or any other type of living situation in which the individual is not free to leave on their own will at any time.

- You must apply with per capita office to start your one (1) year. Date stamped by Member service clerk is start date of one (1) yr. NO back dating. It would be to your advantage to submit semi annual Confirmation of residency when qualified members do (May 1 & Nov 1)
South Dakota tribes participated in the Native Americans' Day parade Monday, Oct. 8, in downtown Sioux Falls. The theme this year was "Honoring Our Elders."
